

He's Loser, Despite Triumph

THE HUSTLE AND BUSTLE of the last minute Christmas shopping is bad enough as it is but with a small sports car it is just about impossible. Alan Butcher of Lansing, who bought a second-hand Triumph a few days ago, is wondering at this moment if he shouldn't have purchased a big station wagon after all. The solution was easy, however: just put the top down, jam in the presents and (br-r-r-r) drive away. (AP Wirephoto)

'Hip' Minister Carrying Cross To Washington

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The hip "minister of the Sunset Strip" has begun a coast-to-coast hike carrying a 10-foot wooden cross in hopes of triggering a "spiritual awakening in the nation."

The Rev. Arthur Blessitt, an ordained Baptist minister who runs a combination church and gospel nightclub on the Sunset Strip, placed the top end of the 50-pound cross atop his shoulders Christmas Day and, with a few parishioners tagging along, began his trek to Washington, D.C. Two bicycle wheels at the base of the cross keep it from dragging.

The 29-year-old minister's wife and three children will precede him in a camper truck and make arrangements for each night's stop. Walking with the long-sideburned minister will be his four-member gospel rock group, the Eternal Rush. Blessitt said he hopes half a million people will gather with him when he reaches the Washington Monument next summer. The walk is designed to begin a "spiritual awakening in the nation," he said, and to protest "violence, hate and dissension that tears our country apart."

Blessitt fasted for 28 days last summer while chained to a cross on the strip. He said the trek is not intended to make money. "I don't know where our food will come from. We're just going to depend on Jesus Christ," he said.

Nixon Delaying West Coast Trip

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sunny California will have to wait a few days while President Nixon remains in snowy Washington to consider the kind of post-Christmas problem worrying many other Americans—the budget.

The President had planned to leave this afternoon for Sacramento, Calif., but Nixon decided Thursday he would stay at the White House to work on the federal budget he must submit to Congress next year.

He has put off his California trip until next week, probably Tuesday. The chief executive, Mrs. Nixon and their daughter Tricia are expected to spend about two weeks at their ocean-front home.

After working Christmas Eve and part of Christmas Day on the new budget, Nixon switched his holiday vacation plans so he would remain in Washington to have further conferences with his economic advisers.

Work on the budget was delayed by late congressional action on appropriations bills for the current fiscal year—some of which are still unsettled.

Defense Cuts Could Hit Million People

WASHINGTON (AP) — Pentagon officials predict about 1 million fewer Americans will be involved in the nation's defenses as a result of budget cutbacks over the first 30 months of the Nixon administration.

Included in this calculation are reductions in uniformed members of the armed services, civilian employees of defense agencies and workers who have been employed in defense industries.

Deeper Cuts Likely

Amid indications of deeper cuts in defense, the administration is putting next year's budget in final shape for submission to Congress in January. Although President Nixon has been in office only a little more than 11 months, the new budget will run from mid-1970 to mid-1971—carrying through the first 30 months of his administration. With certain issues still unresolved, Pentagon sources are estimating a new budget of $73 billion to $75 billion in the book-keeping year starting next July. This would cut $2 billion to $4 billion from this fiscal year's spending level of about $77 billion.

To put it another way, such a cut would carry defense spending about $6 billion to $8 billion below the final Johnson administration proposal for the current year.

The reduction of the Vietnam war has been responsible for a considerable part of a planned savings for this year, but Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird also has ordered economies by closing bases, canceling and stretching out hardware programs, cutting back air defense, and laying up ships and air squadrons.

More is in prospect, including probable major base shutdowns in the coming year.

As the United States has reduced its troop commitment in Vietnam, the Pentagon has arranged for a slimming down of the armed forces. So far, nearly 270,000 men are being cut from the armed services rolls this fiscal year and there are hints the total force reduction could reach about 500,000 before mid-1971.

Civilian employment under the Defense Department is due to drop by about 73,000 this year and could possibly total 150,000 or more by the end of the next fiscal year.

73,000 Less Employees
With reductions in military procurement, officials indicate that defense contract employment may drop as much as 300,000 or so.

The Vietnam war is expected to cost the United States $23.2 billion this year, a drop of about $5.6 billion from last year.

According to current projections, the cost of carrying on the Vietnam war at a reduced level in the next fiscal year may slip to around $17 billion to $18 billion.

Reds Say No!

Texas 'Santa' Fails In POW Gift Plan

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP) — North Vietnam refused today to admit H. Ross Perot and his two planeloads of Christmas gifts for American prisoners of war.

The Texas billionaire then proposed:

—To fly the 1,400 canned Christmas dinners in his cargo to Hanoi to be fed to North Vietnamese children orphaned by the war. He told a news conference the Hanoi regime is now considering this proposal.

—To fly the medical supplies, personal packages, mail and clothing to Moscow aboard his chartered airliners for relay to the prisoners by Soviet postal channels. Hanoi had told him to mail the packages via Moscow, but Perot said only by flying them in his planes could he beat the Dec. 31 deadline North Vietnam has put on accepting Christmas parcels.

—To inspect prisoner of war camps in South Vietnam, then travel to Hanoi, and to offer financial and other help to North Vietnamese families as they could send parcels to relatives held prisoner in South Vietnam. He said this would prove to Hanoi "that we are strictly humanitarian in our outlook—that we are interested in helping all prisoners, not just Americans."

Perot met for an hour and 35 minutes with the acting charge d'affaires of the North Vietnamese Embassy, Vu Tien.

"We were refused permission to fly our planes in," Perot told newsmen, "and I was refused permission to fly to Hanoi myself to present my proposals to the North Vietnamese government."

The 39-year-old computer magnate said he was disappointed, "but we are not giving up."

Perot said Vu Tien indicated that Americans should take an interest in the suffering of the people of North Vietnam.

"I feel now we will have to demonstrate by our actions that we have a genuine interest in the families and prisoners of North Vietnam, just as we have in our own," he said.

Perot said the major obstacle in his conversation with the North Vietnamese envoy was the "wall of suspicion" surrounding his mission. He said he would keep trying to convince the Hanoi regime that his project was entirely a humanitarian one. "In no way representing the United States government."

The normally ruddy-faced Perot was ashen as he walked from the embassy.

Michigan Man Lone Survivor Of VC Ambush

SAIGON (AP) — A 27-year-old Army captain from Livonia is now in good condition following his escape as the sole survivor of an attack by a group of Vietnamese dressed like South Vietnamese soldiers.

Capt. John W. Marshall said the jeep in which he and three other Americans were riding was stopped Tuesday 25 miles north of Saigon by a group of soldiers who were thought to be friendly.

The Michigan serviceman said he jumped out of the jeep and began to run when the Vietnamese opened fire. Hit in the leg, Marshall said he pretended to be dead until the Vietnamese left after setting fire to the jeep.

The names of the three Americans who were killed was not immediately released. A highway mine-sweeping team found Marshall the following morning, he said.

Army officers said Marshall would probably be flown to Japan for additional medical treatment.

A military spokesman said it is believed the attack was made by North Vietnamese dressed in South Vietnamese uniforms.

Southeast Hit By Heavy Snow

By The Associated Press

The East's first major crippling storm of the winter swept up the coast today with lashing winds and more than a foot of snow in some locations. Traffic was snarled in the major metropolitan centers.

The same storm system battered the Southeast Thursday with tornadoes, driving rain and snow. One twister ripped into Kaplan, La., a city of 10,000, leaving one dead and eight injured.

A Weather Bureau spokesman said the snow today would turn to rain from New York City south along the coast while the storm center pushed north through New England.

In the New York metropolitan area, Kennedy and Newark Airports said operations were continuing. LaGuardia Airport suspended operations until noon.

Rain began falling early today in downtown Washington, D.C., after 4.5 inches of snow had accumulated. Roanoke, Va., had 15 inches of snow and Charlottesville, Va., 13 inches with snow still falling in both cities.

Weathermen said the snow extended from Georgia up the coast through New England and as far west as the Great Lakes.

Inductee To Work At Approved Job; Prison Term Off

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — A Birmingham youth who said he failed to report for induction into the military service for religious reasons has been given a chance to work in an approved job instead of going to prison.

U.S. Dist. Court Judge Frank M. Johnson Jr., gave Larry Allen Hill a two-year sentence suspended under three years probation on the condition that he work at a job approved by his probation officer. Johnson said the job would be one which contributed to the national welfare.

Hill told the judge military service was opposed by his father, a Jehovah's Witness, and he had not known he could apply for status as a conscientious objector.

Never Wanted To Be President: Johnson

NEW YORK (AP) — Lyndon B. Johnson says he never wanted to be president of the United States and would have left the 1964 Democratic nomination open for Robert F. Kennedy or Hubert H. Humphrey except that his wife, Lady Bird, persuaded him to run.

Although convinced he could have beaten Richard M. Nixon in 1960, the former President says he retired from last year's race because by then Mrs. Johnson wanted him to and because: "I was convinced that there were forces in my own party, that there were forces in the molders of public opinion in this country that would continue to oppose a tax bill, to arouse questions that would make peace (in Vietnam) impossible, that would continue to agitate in the crises for the effect it would have on the President who would be the Democratic nominee."

Decision His Own
He said that Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy's showing in the New Hampshire primary and Sen. Robert F. Kennedy's entrance into the battle for the nomination did not affect his decision.

Johnson made his explanation of his March 31, 1968, decision not to seek a second full term in an interview with Walter Cronkite taped in Texas last September for broadcast on CBS-TV Saturday night. The former President was paid for this, the first in a series of television interviews on his political career, but CBS declined to say how much.

Persuaded By Kennedy

During the interview, Johnson disclosed that the late President John F. Kennedy, while a senator, and his father, the late Ambassador Joseph P. Kennedy, were the first men to urge him to seek the presidency.

"In the fall of '58 when I was here at the ranch, Sen. Kennedy's father... they had concluded that they would like to support me for president and they wanted the go-ahead to do so. And I told them I had no ambitions to be president... the next year in Chicago I was a candidate."

No Power Seeker

The late Adlai E. Stevenson won the nomination that year. Johnson said that, despite the belief of the American people that he was "an extremely ambitious man who sought power, who enjoyed using it and whose greatest desire was to occupy the top job," he never at any time wanted to be president.

The reason, he said, was that he felt "a general inability to stimulate, inspire and unite all the people of the country, which I think is an essential function of the presidency."

"I always felt that every job that I had was really too big for me," he said.

No Second Thought

Johnson said he had no regrets and no second thoughts about quitting but "there's some disappointment that the results that I hoped would come from it—namely peace in the world—have not as yet come, but I'm still hopeful."

Calling Mrs. Johnson "one of the wisest and certainly the most trusted counselor I've had," Johnson said the timetable of his announcement not to seek re-election was contained in one of her memos dated May 1964.

In it, she told him: "Yes, you've got to run again. But if you do, you've got to do it with the understanding and with the knowledge that three years and three months from the time you take the oath—and that would make it March 1968—you can say to the people that... you're not going to succeed to another term."

March 31, Johnson said, "was the final day... the end of the three years, three months."

Persuaded By Ladybird

FORMER PRESIDENT Lyndon Johnson, right, said in an interview that he never wanted to be president of the United States. Favoring either Hubert Humphrey or Robert Kennedy for the 1964 nomination, Johnson claims he was persuaded by Ladybird, left, to seek the high position. Johnson stated he thought he could have beaten Richard Nixon had he decided to seek another term in office. (AP Wirephoto)

Hill told the judge military service was opposed by his father, a Jehovah's Witness, and he had not known he could apply for status as a conscientious objector.

Israelis Smash Missile Sites

By The Associated Press
Israeli jets thundered across the Suez Canal for 3 1/2 hours Christmas Day to destroy anti-aircraft missile sites the Egyptians were trying to rebuild, an Israeli spokesman said.

The attack against the surface-to-air missile sites was one of the longest air actions since the 1967 war.

"The SAM sites were hit in previous Israeli raids, but the Egyptians were trying to rebuild them and our planes went in again to clean them out," a spokesman said. "The missile batteries were destroyed."

The Israeli spokesman said all the planes returned safely, but an Egyptian spokesman said four of the raiders were shot down.

On the Jordan River frontier, Arab guerrillas opened fire with bazookas and light weapons against Israeli army positions along a 16-mile front in the Beit-San and Jordan valleys, correspondents in the area reported. They said Israeli artillery fired back, and Jordanian army units joined in the exchange.

On the political front, President Gamel Abdel Nasser stopped in Tripoli on his way home from the Arab summit meeting in Morocco. He was meeting with Maj. Gen. Jaafar of Numeiri, the head of the Sudanese government, and Col. Muammer Kadafi, the chief of the Libyan junta.

Press accounts said three of the men were in a new car they had stolen from a U.S. Air Force captain and the other three were in a Jeep-taxi behind the car.

Police said the killers were believed to be private security police but they had not been arrested. Police began an investigation of relations, between the slain men and the men who fired at them.

Selfridge Pair Faces Probe Over Antiwar Speeches

MOUNT CLEMENS (AP) — The deputy commander at Selfridge Air Force Base says an investigation has been ordered into statements made by two airmen at an antiwar rally in downtown Detroit Tuesday.

Col. Kenneth Gunnarson, deputy commander, said Thursday night the purpose of the investigation was to determine whether the airmen made statements in violation of either Air Force regulations or public laws.

The airmen were identified as Charles Harris and Douglas Byers, who are stationed at Selfridge.

James Lafferty, chairman of the Detroit Coalition to End the War Now, termed the investigation a "blatant effort to stifle their right to speak, by harassing them with a patently bogus investigation."

Lafferty, an attorney, said "they said nothing that they didn't have a lawful right to say. Soldiers and airmen have a lawful right to speak out against the war."

234 Road Deaths; 7 From Michigan

By The Associated Press
The nation's Christmas holiday weekend traffic death toll reached 234 today.

Poor highway conditions plagued motorists in much of the East and in part of the Midwest and Far West, due to snow, freezing drizzle and rain.

The count of traffic deaths began at 6 p. m. local time Wednesday and ends at midnight Sunday.

Multiple car collisions on Michigan's slick highways accounted for five deaths during the early part of the Christmas holidays. Another two persons were killed in other highway accidents, including a one-car mobile crash.

No fatal accidents were reported in the Upper Peninsula.

Carney Girl Given NMU Scholarship

MARQUETTE—In the homes of two Upper Peninsula high school students, Northern Michigan University arrived ahead of Santa Claus on Christmas eve, with the gift of a four-year education in the form of scholastic scholarships.

Winners of Edgar L. Harden Scholarships, worth $4,000 to each for their education, were Barbara Orr, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Orr of Laurium and Jeanne Otravdec, 17, daughter of David Otravdec, Rte. 1, Carney.

Both girls were notified of their selection in a telegram sent by Northern's President, Dr. John X. Jamrich, and Robert Pecotte, director of financial aids, early Wednesday evening.

Wishing the girls a Merry Christmas, the telegram informed them of their award and noted that "you now rank as one of the top three freshmen enrolling at Northern for 1970-71."

Selection of the two girls was based upon their cumulative academic average through their junior year in school and on-campus competition among 120 of the U. P.'s top high school seniors during Northern's Academic Achievement Awards program earlier in the month.

Jeanne, who holds top ranking in her class at Carney-Nadeau High School with a straight A average, will enroll at Northern next fall to study nursing.

Barbara, who ranks second in her class at Calumet High School, will also enroll at Northern next fall in the secondary education curriculum.

The scholarship is named in honor of NMU's former president, Dr. Edgar L. Harden. One other "Harden Scholar" will be selected in March from among the top Lower Michigan high school seniors.

Next year, with an alternating selection schedule in effect, Harden Scholarships will be awarded to one U. P. student and two from Lower Michigan.

54 Scholarships Set For Study Of Alcoholism

LANSING (AP) — Michigan residents will have a chance to study alcoholism this summer under 54 full scholarships available under the auspices of the State Public Health Department.

The scholarships, which cover tuition, room and board, will be granted to both professional and lay people who can "profit through increased knowledge of alcohol - related problems, including alcoholism," the department said.

Selection of scholarship winners, the department said, will be made on the basis of geographic location, educational background, experience, interest, and potential to use the knowledge to be gained.

The summer schools involved include the Midwest Institute of Alcohol Studies, Western Michigan University, Kalamazoo, June 14 - 19; Rutgers Summer School of Alcohol Studies, Rutgers University, New Brunswick, N.J., June 28 - July 17; and the University of Wisconsin Summer School for Alcoholism Information Center Activities, Madison, Wis., July 19-24.

Deadline for submitting application forms, which may be found at the department's Lansing offices, is April 17, 1970.

Ore Shipping Season Ends:

Hope For 10 Million In '70

By CLINT DUNATHAN

The Chicago & North Western Railway isn't lowering its sights in shooting for a bigger and better operation of its new iron ore loading facility in Escanaba next year.

In fact, it's holding right on target with the goal of between 9 and 10 million tons of ore to be handled at Escanaba in 1970.

"With a few changes that will be made here throughout the winter, plus the experience we have had this year, we are looking forward to handling between 9 and 10 million tons here next year," said Paul Schilling, C&NW assistant ore superintendent.

This year the goal was 7 million tons and the North Western came close, chalking up very near the 8.8 mark with a total of 6,899,567 tons compared to 6,223,762 tons last year.

More From Marquette
And so the new goal with a top of 10 million tons means the North Western is confident of the efficiency of its new ore handling facility, which has been put to a real test in its first season, with plenty of problems to overcome.

Where will the approximately 2 million additional tons of iron ore come from in 1970?

"We see the Menominee range tonnage as about the same as this year, and we hope for an increase of about 3 million tons from the Marquette range," said Schilling. "This will bring the total ore the North Western will bring from the Marquette range to Escanaba to about 6 million tons."

Here are some comparisons with last year in the volume of ore moved through Escanaba.

• Menominee range mines supplied 3.4 million tons in 1968, and this year it was 2.3 million—down slightly.

• From the Marquette range came 3.6 million tons of ore compared to 2.7 million a year ago—up more than 1 million tons.

• The percentage of pelletized ore increased from 74 to 82 per cent of the total handled by the North Western at Escanaba.

"We expect the volume of pellet ore will go close to 90 per cent of the total in 1970," said Schilling.

The number of boats loaded out at Escanaba this year increased to 497 from 421 the year before and the average per vessel loading declined from 14,783 tons to 13,900 tons.

Stockpile Grows
More boats loaded but the average loading down from a year ago. What happened?

"This was due primarily to our difficulties at the terminal earlier in the season," said Schilling. "Because of the problems in loading, smaller ore boats were sent to Escanaba by the fleet operators, so their big boats would not be delayed. So we loaded more but smaller vessels."

The shipment of pelletized ore to the Escanaba terminal will continue through the winter months with a total of about 2 million tons expected to be on hand for the opening of the shipping season next spring, said Schilling.

The 1970 navigation opening will be around April 1, give or take a week.

Plan Telethon For New Arena

A Telethon is scheduled for Feb. 14 and 15 in Escanaba to help raise funds for a proposed new arena that would hold an indoor artificial ice skating rink.

The program will be televised over American Cablevision's Channel 8 in the area.

According to George LaFave, manager of the Escanaba Hawke hockey team who is heading the campaign for the new arena, it is hoped the Telethon will raise over $250,000. The proposed development would include an artificial ice rink, and facilities that could be used for auto shows and home shows as well as a convention center in the summer months.

Gov. William Milliken and Rep. Charles Varner have told LaFave that they've made tentative plans to help kick-off the Telethon.

Right now, LaFave and his citizens group are looking for volunteer talent for the television show.

"We're looking for singers, dancers, musicians, — all types of talent," LaFave said.

Anyone interested in auditioning for the Telethon is asked to attend a talent audition to be held at noon on Jan. 11 at the Teamsters Hall.

Drama Club To Present Five Plays At Holy Name

The Holy Name Drama Club will present its fourth annual Coffee House Theater Jan. 10-11 at 8 p.m. in the Holy Name multi-purpose room.

The production will consist of five student-directed plays: "The Tamed Dragon", "Boy Meets Family", "Occurrence at Owl Creek Bridge", "Mannequin's Dances" and "The Opening Night".

Directors are Pat Choudoir, Mark Woods, Mark Williams, Greg Geron and Paul Gouette. A thrust stage will be used for the productions.

35 Firemen Fight Grand Ledge Fire

GRAND LEDGE (AP)—About 35 firemen fought a blaze that destroyed a large storage building, containing four trucks and lumber piles, at the Grand Ledge Lumber Co.

Equipment from six other area fire departments rushed to the Eaton County town to control the blaze that broke out Wednesday night and continued until Thursday morning.

The cause and amount of damages were not determined Thursday.

Firemen said the blaze began in a mill area and destroyed the four trucks, including two new ones, numerous tools, a forklift, and lumber piles.

VFW Cited For Films On Children Safety

Hawthorne Post 2988, Veterans of Foreign Wars, was commended recently by Escanaba Mayor Carl Chase and by City Manager George Harvey and Chief of Police Richard Frederick for aiding in the safety of area children.

The VFW purchased two films which alert the children of Escanaba and vicinity to the dangers of taking rides with strangers and talking to strangers.

Commander Marvin Ducheny received a plaque from the police department and the city of Escanaba for the educational safety films which will be shown in the local schools by the police safety program directors.

Frederick said his department considers the important safety program a demonstration of true American and community spirit that motivates the Veterans of Foreign Wars. "All the people of Escanaba will benefit from the films," Frederick told the veterans at a recent meeting.

Mayor Chase expressed the gratitude of the city for the VFW's concern over the safety of the city's children. "The city would have to put out the money ($240) for the films if they were to purchase them and I feel the VFW saved the city that amount by being generous enough to absorb the cost," Chase said.

Harvey praised the VFW for its cooperation in city-related events, including the purchase of a flag which was presented at the dedication of the new airport facility. "The city is grateful for what you have done," he said in a letter of appreciation to the post early this month.

Divorce Issues

Michigan's Legislature for a number of reasons failed to come up with adoption of education reform legislation proposed by Gov. William Milliken. But the lack of specific progress doesn't mean that there hasn't been any gain at all. To some people it just looks that way.

The impression was conveyed by the governor several months ago when he introduced his education proposals and called a special session of the lawmakers that he had great hopes the Legislature would take action to implement the recommendations this year. It was an optimistic approach, but one which did not correctly assess the variables in the legislative process. It failed to recognize that the path is slow and filled with obstacles when it comes to major policy changes.

Considerable progress was made, however, although much of it was in a preliminary nature toward final votes.

But if the Legislature is nearing the stage of final action, a major stumbling block still exists. Milliken's program tied aid to non-public schools (parochial) into the education package and it has remained there. As long as parochial remains, there will be problems.

Education reform, by itself, is a difficult proposition for the Legislature. There is general agreement that something must be done in Michigan to restructure the public education system, but there is wide disagreement about how to approach the problem. There also is wide disagreement on the tax action needed to finance improvements and change.

The insertion of parochial as an integral part only multiplied the complexity.

Some of the lawmakers, for example, have threatened to scuttle the entire program unless parochial is included. This puts the heat on others who may not favor parochial, but might be forced into voting for it indirectly in favoring the public education segments. It is possible, too, that some lawmakers would vote against an otherwise acceptable bill strictly because parochial was a part of it.

The Senate several weeks ago passed an education appropriations bill including parochial, then voted later to reconsider. As yet, there has been no action by the full House of Representatives.

Both bodies will take up the issues again when they reconvene in regular session next month and when they do parochial should be divorced from the other elements of the education package, letting each stand or fall on its own merit.

An effort to revamp the state's public educational structure is difficult enough without the explosive problem of aid to non-public schools.

Parochial, whether finally approved or not, shouldn't be allowed to stand in the way of progress toward that goal.

More Than Money

It has been an axiom of politics since the dawn of the New Deal that money was the cure-all for what ails American social problems. Simply pour in the money and the problem will vanish, we have been told repeatedly.

This supposed truth seldom has been questioned, especially when the target was social. Anyone who opposed the spending of more tax money has been portrayed as a heartless reactionary who didn't care for the plight of the less fortunate.

Those who favored government spending as a shortcut to an American utopia have been called liberals whose hearts were as big as all outdoors.

Fortunately for the financial solvency of the federal government and of the average taxpayer, this theorem is under question. Political experts are growing more alert to the complexities of social problems and realize they are more difficult to solve than they once thought, a situation many conservatives pointed out a long time ago.

A case in point is education. The federal government lavishes billions of dollars a year on improving education, particularly concentrating on the poor.

A survey by the National Bank of New York finds, however, that massive concentration of funds in a number of the city's poverty schools has left little mark on the students. The bank reports that in 150 New York schools in poverty areas, where the percentage of Puerto Ricans and Negroes is 90 or higher, there is little correlation between the amount of money spent on each pupil and his educational achievement. The amount ranged from $529 per year to $1,560.

"This raises the question whether or not continued indiscriminate funding will in and of itself necessarily increase educational output proportionately," the report concludes.

The bank, of course, is not arguing against efforts to upgrade educational achievement of the poor. It realizes that the under-educated are usually the under-employed and the idle. What the bank's report indicates is that educating the poverty-stricken is a difficult task that requires a good deal more than money.

Peninsula Potpourri

While some lake freighters are carrying their final cargoes of the season, the tanker Mercury, a 300-foot vessel, is engaged in what is known as a "mail run" all over Lake Superior. The Mercury came to Marquette in mid-week and was loaded with fuel oil, and from here it was to go to Port Arthur, then to Superior, and on to Duluth, back to Superior and finally to Port Washington, Wis., with another load of fuel oil. Local officials at Sault Ste. Marie said the Mercury is slated for her last run this week.

Glenn C. Neff, was elected president of the Mackinac County Area Chamber of Commerce.

Corporations Already Have Humane Touch

BY JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

One could listen with sympathetic ears to the young when they inveigh against the deteriorating quality of American life if they weren't so self-righteous about it. Their teachers are often no better when it comes to distributing blanket indictments of groups and classes that they know only vicariously, through the hearsay stereotypes that pass for sociological knowledge.

Both the young and their teachers almost never have a good word to say about the American corporation. A Columbia University sociologist, Dr. Amitai Etzioni, remarks that today's activist youth is bent on avoiding the corporate "rat race" for careers in social work. And Dr. Dan W. Dodson of New York University thinks that if the young do choose business careers they will try to "restructure" industry to make it more humane.

The insult to our corporations implied in such attitudes reeks without history. The fact is that our corporations have been doing a great deal to back the civil rights movement and to put the "hard core" unemployed to work. Some of the leaders of union labor (though not all, by any means) have had a much worse record for discrimination than businessmen.

The record of General Electric in backing the self-help "black capitalism" projects of the Reverend Leon Sullivan is excellent. So, too, is Shell Oil's program for recruiting service station proprietors from among the disadvantaged, whether they happen to be black or white. And the "street academies" in Harlem which have been turning drop-outs into serious students have had the help of Pan American World Airways and other big corporations as well as the support of the Urban League.

Under President Lyndon Johnson the Office of Economic Opportunity, a government agency, got a great play for what it was trying to do to train the unemployed for useful activity. But it was never the equal of the National Alliance of Businessmen, headed by Henry Ford II. When Ford turned the chairmanship of this group over to President Nixon's appointee, Don Kendall of the Pepsi-Cola Co., the Alliance had managed to place 146,000 people in jobs with 12,500 firms.

If the young would have the patience to read something more than the sloganized tripe put out by the Left, it might open their eyes to go through the latter chapters in Boomer's Herndon's 'Ford: an Unconventional Biography of the Men and Their Times'. Herndon confessed in an interview the other day that he, personally, was a bleeding-heart liberal.

But he is going to lose his bleeding-heart lodge button now that he has written his book. His chapters on "Men of Social Conscience" make an absolutely irrefutable case for the superiority of the corporate approach toward putting the hard core to work over anything the government has managed to do without calling in the businessmen.

Henry Ford II got his impetus for expanding his grandfather's very decent hiring practices after spending considerable time talking with black militant leaders in Detroit. But it was no sudden conversion when Ford prodded the New Detroit Committee to "generalize" the Ford Motor Co.'s efforts to "screen 'em in" rather than to screen them out.

Henry Ford II had had a long-standing friendship with Whitney Young Jr., the executive director of the Urban League. Herndon's story of this friendship goes into a bit of interesting history.

It so happens that Whitney Young's father, a Negro, had been employed by the first Henry Ford in 1919 at a $300-a-month job as an electrical engineer. (It is now forgotten by those who talk about corporate discrimination that the first Henry Ford's hiring practices, as taken up by other companies, pushed the Negro population of Detroit from five per cent in 1920 to 50 per cent in the Sixties.)

The elder Whitney Young left Ford to become a $68-a-month teacher in a Negro school. But he never forgot "old Henry." The friendship of the younger Whitney Young and "young Henry Ford" was assured.

If and when the young take corporation jobs with the idea of "humanizing" industry, they may make the disconcerting discovery that the necessary "restructuring" is already considerably more than half begun.

Herndon has written about Ford, but the same sort of chronicle could be done for General Electric, Pan American, Shell Oil and many other companies.

WONDERFUL MUSIC

So surprised have we become to the high degree of excellence always enjoyed at the musical concerts of the Escanaba Area High School, it's no longer a source of amazement.

What a marvelous gift the students and instructors give the community each Christmas season when the annual Christmas concert is presented.

Whenever one feels depressed about the future of our country, one has but to look in to the faces of these wonderful teenagers of ours, striving to give the best they are capable of—the product of months of practice.

And so to all of you—students and instructors—thank you for your fine contribution to our Christmas season and for being such fine representatives of your community and your school.

1970 Economy Forecast Seen As Gloomy One

By JOHN CUNNEIFF

NEW YORK (AP) — There is always reason enough to doubt those economic forecasts for the year ahead that pour out of brokerage houses, government offices, boardrooms and classrooms around this time of year.

Last year, for example, many of the seers missed not only the bull's-eye but the target too, forecasting a business slowdown, a lessening of inflation, greater unemployment and less pressure on interest rates. Wrong on almost all counts.

Side by side with the doubters this year is another vast aggregation made up of those whose doubts are not nearly as strong as their wishes. They're hopeful, and as they view the forecasts they pray they won't come true.

No question about it, those forecasts are a bit gloomy. You can detect in them a feeling that in 1969 the country escaped too easily from the consequences of its extravagance and that 1970 will be the year to pay.

The standard forecasts are for greater unemployment, higher prices for months more, a recession in housing, a slowing of pay raises, higher real estate taxes, a continuation of high interest rates well into the year.

In some years there is much disagreement among forecasters. At the present there are a few notable exceptions to the consensus forecast, but there is also more unanimity than in perhaps any year of the past eight or nine.

In preparing for financially more austere times, however, Americans should not forget that the situation is relative. Any downturn short of a major recession still will leave most Americans better off than 10 years earlier.

There are also some small areas of improvement to look forward to. Social Security benefits might be higher, federal income taxes lower. And the outlook for the second half of 1970 is distinctly better than for the first half.

Some projections, for example, show the worst of the housing recession occurring in mid-year, with steady improvement after that. And although inflation might average 4 per cent, a figure forecast by the National Planning Association, it could

Contract Bridge

By R. JAY SICKLER

Partner bids One Diamond, best player passes, neither side vulnerable. What would you bid now with each of the following five hands?

1. ♠ A K Q J 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♥ A K Q J 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♦ A K Q J 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♣ A K Q J 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2

4. ♠ A K Q J 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♥ A K Q J 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♦ A K Q J 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♣ A K Q J 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2
5. ♠ A K Q J 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♥ A K Q J 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♦ A K Q J 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♣ A K Q J 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2

1. One spade. Some players respond a notrump rather than a spade, laboring under the misapprehension that such a weak suit is not biddable. This is fallacious because it ignores one of the cardinal objects of the bidding process, namely, to find an eight-card major suit fit.

Thus, if partner has any three spades, the suit becomes playable and it would probably remain undiscovered if the response were one notrump. In the overwhelming majority of deals the goal is to reach a major suit contract (if there is a combined holding of eight trumps) rather than a notrump or minor suit contract.

2. Three notrump. This response indicates 16 or 17 points, notrump distribution (usually 4-3-3-3) and strength in the unbid suits. It differs from a two notrump response (13 to 15) only in point count.

3. Two clubs. It would be a great mistake to make the cheaper response of one heart. This is because you intend to show both suits, and the best way of indicating that the clubs are longer than the hearts is by bidding them first. You bid two hearts over the expected two diamond rebid, and in that way inform partner that your hearts are only four cards in length. If you responded initially with a heart and later bid clubs, partner would have no way of knowing that the longer suit was clubs. It would put too much strain on his occult powers.

4. One spade. The hand is too weak for three diamonds (forcing) and too strong for only two diamonds. As usual, in cases where you are between a single or double raise, you bid a side suit before showing support for partner's suit.

Of course, the Q-8-4-3 is not exactly a sturdy suit to bid, but it is better to misrepresent your spade strength than to misrepresent the value of the hand by bidding either two or three diamonds.

5. Three clubs. The jump-shift shows at least 17 points and thus announces interest in a slam. The hand is much too good (18 points) for a leap to three notrump, since partner is under no obligation to bid over this response.

It is highly unusual to jump-shift in a three-card suit, but in this instance there is no reasonable alternative. Note that the jump-shift is made in clubs, not spades. This makes it possible — if partner raises clubs — to return to his suit, diamonds, in the same bidding level.

Ann Landers

Boy, Girl Too Great

Dear Ann Landers: In 1968, a wonderful couple who had been our longtime friends were killed in an automobile accident. Also killed was their 10-year-old daughter. Their only other child, Sherry, was not in the car at the time.

My husband and I had always loved Sherry. We invited her to make her home with us. She was then 12. Our only child, Billy (age 18), was thrilled at the thought of having a sister.

Sherry is now 16 and Billy is 17. They go everywhere together — dances, school parties, skating, swimming, picnicking. We've encouraged them to date others, but they seem to prefer each other.

Last night when we returned from a late movie, we found them both asleep in Sherry's bed. Apparently they dozed off while watching T.V. They were in their night clothes and the scene didn't look very sister-and-brotherly to me. We awakened them and had a long talk. They told us they are in love.

Under the circumstances I do not feel right about leaving them alone at night from now on. Yet, how can we hire a sitter for 16- and 17-year olds?

Is this incest? Should we leave them alone? My husband says the horses are already out of the barn. What do you say?

— Tread In Cleveland

Dear Tread: This is not incest. They are not related. The horses may be out of the barn but that doesn't mean you should leave the barn doors wide open and encourage them to run at will. It's going to be awfully hard to keep 'em down on the farm after they've seen Pares, but I do think you should try. Engage an older woman to sit when you go out for an evening. (And P.S. I hope the boy goes AWAY to college soon.)

Dear Ann Landers: That waitress who wrote to complain about wives who wait until hubby's back is turned and then sneak the waitress' tips off the table shouldn't judge all wives by the crummy ones she has been running into.

When my husband's back is turned, I take money out of my purse and add to the waitress' tip.

My husband has always resented tipping in restaurants. He figures ten per cent of the bill down to the penny and that's what he leaves. I don't feel ten per cent is enough any more, so I add to it when he isn't looking.

Jake says restaurant owners get away with murder. They pay rock-bottom salaries and the customer is expected to make up the difference. I tell him, "You are right, Jake — but you can't beat the system. If you don't tip, the restaurant owner isn't going to suffer. It's the waitress who will walk around with holes in her shoes." I was a waitress myself, and I would have starved if people didn't slip something under the plate.

You've always been a friend.

Peter Max Endorses New Idea In 'Leg Art'

NEW YORK (AP) — Not on the heels of the maxifashions, we now have the Max fashions—avant-garde artist Peter Max, that is.

Actually, they're not only on the heels, but also on the toes, calves, knees and thighs of a new collection of hosiery that bears his cosmic designs.

The 30-year-old exponent of art nouveau for the masses followed his initial success with psychedelic posters by putting his bold and colorful imprint on clocks, toys, towels, dishes, napkins, ash trays, starves, stationery and even the sides of buses.

Now, looking for new spaces to conquer, Max has gone out on a limb—and given a new meaning to the term "leg art." His brilliant-based geometrics, flower fantasies, constellations and clouds are placed strategically at various levels from below the mid-thigh, on down to the foot, where even a maxicost enthusiast can show her colors.

In between there are designs just above the knee, as well as a galaxy of stars that enhances the contour of the upper leg, a portion of female anatomy the artist feels has been outrageously neglected.

Although the daring ornamentation is admittedly "beamed at the young spirited individualist who wants to establish her own identity to create her very own version of fashion," Max adds that "any woman with a well-shaped leg can wear them."

Born in Germany, the soft-spoken artist came to this country via Shanghai, Tibet, Israel, where he studied astronomy, and France. He became interested in yoga and in Paris found Swami Satichidananda, persuaded him to come to New York, and now they work together at the Integral Yoga Institute.

Though his head may be up in the clouds in pursuit of cosmic wisdom, when it comes to innovative commercialism Max's feet are planted on the ground as firmly as he hopes feminine feet will be planted in his star-studded stockings.

Grace Baptist Youth Will Present Play

Young People of the Grace Baptist Church of Gladstone will present a three act play, "Carol Finds Christmas," on Sunday evening at 7:30 p. m. at the church, 608 Michigan Ave.

Participating are: Gayl Wright, Glenna Larson, Jim Miller, Vicki Van Brocklin, Patti Van Brocklin, Cathy Van Brocklin, Juanita Roddy, Sherry Roddy, Sara Wolfe, Trina Wolfe, Joe White, Susan Festera, Darryl Lindquist, Richard Olsen and Steven Manning.

The play centers around the decision that Carol and the heads of the Children's Home have to reach in deciding which of two families Carol will live with. Spending a part of Christmas Day with each family helps Carol to come to a decision as she learns how Christmas is observed by each. The public is invited to attend.

Mary M. Opolka Bride Of Robert J. St. Cyr

Mary Margaret Opolka of Escanaba and Robert Joseph St. Cyr of Rte. 1 Cornell exchanged wedding vows Saturday, Dec. 13 during a Nuptial High Mass at St. Thomas the Apostle Church in Escanaba.

Officiating at the service at 3 p.m. was the Rev. Norman Clich. Vases of yellow and white mums adorned the church altar for the service. Soloist for the wedding was Toni Erickson.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leyon Opolka of 1926 10th Ave. N. and parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Floyd St. Cyr of Rte. 1 Cornell.

Satin, Lace

The bride, given in marriage by her father, chose a floor length gown of white delustered satin with Venice lace trim, fashioned with a high Victorian collar, full Bishop sleeves and a removable wattleau length train.

A headpiece of satin petals trimmed with pearls and crystals held her bouffant veil of silk illusion and she carried a crescent bouquet of miniature carnations, mums and yellow garnet roses. During the ceremony the bride placed a single red rose at the altar of the Blessed Virgin.

Moss Green Velvet

Maid of honor for the bride was Mary Lynn Moersch of Escanaba and bridesmaids were Linda St. Cyr, Cornell, Carole Perle, Wells, Pat Lewis, Gladstone and Margaret Brandt of Escanaba.

They were attired in floor length gowns of moss green velvet styled with fitted bodices, high Victorian necklines and full Bishop sleeves. A wide satin belt in lighter green accented the A-line skirts.

Satin bow headpieces with short wisp veils completed their attire and they carried cascade bouquets of white mums with green velvet grapes and green velvet streamers.

Serving as best man for his brother was Paul St. Cyr of Cornell and groomsmen were Raymond Nicholson of Escanaba, Patrick Chener of Rte. 1 Gladstone, Marshall LaBombard and Francis Fienel, both of Cornell. Seating the guests were Gary Rogers and Ronald Pettin, both of Escanaba.

Mother's Attire

The mother of the bride wore for her daughter's wedding a celery silk shantung dress and coat ensemble with matching accessories and she pinned a corsage of white cymbidium orchids.

Mrs. St. Cyr chose a mint green coat and dress ensemble with brown accessories and she was presented a white cymbidium orchid corsage. The bridegroom's grandmother was also presented a corsage of white carnations and pink rosebuds.

Reception

The reception was held from 4 to 8 p.m. at Maroo's Starlite Room followed by a dance. Assisting with duties were Mrs. John Villeneuve, Mrs. Frank Opolka, Ann VanDamme, and Jan Van Drees. They were presented white carnation corsages.

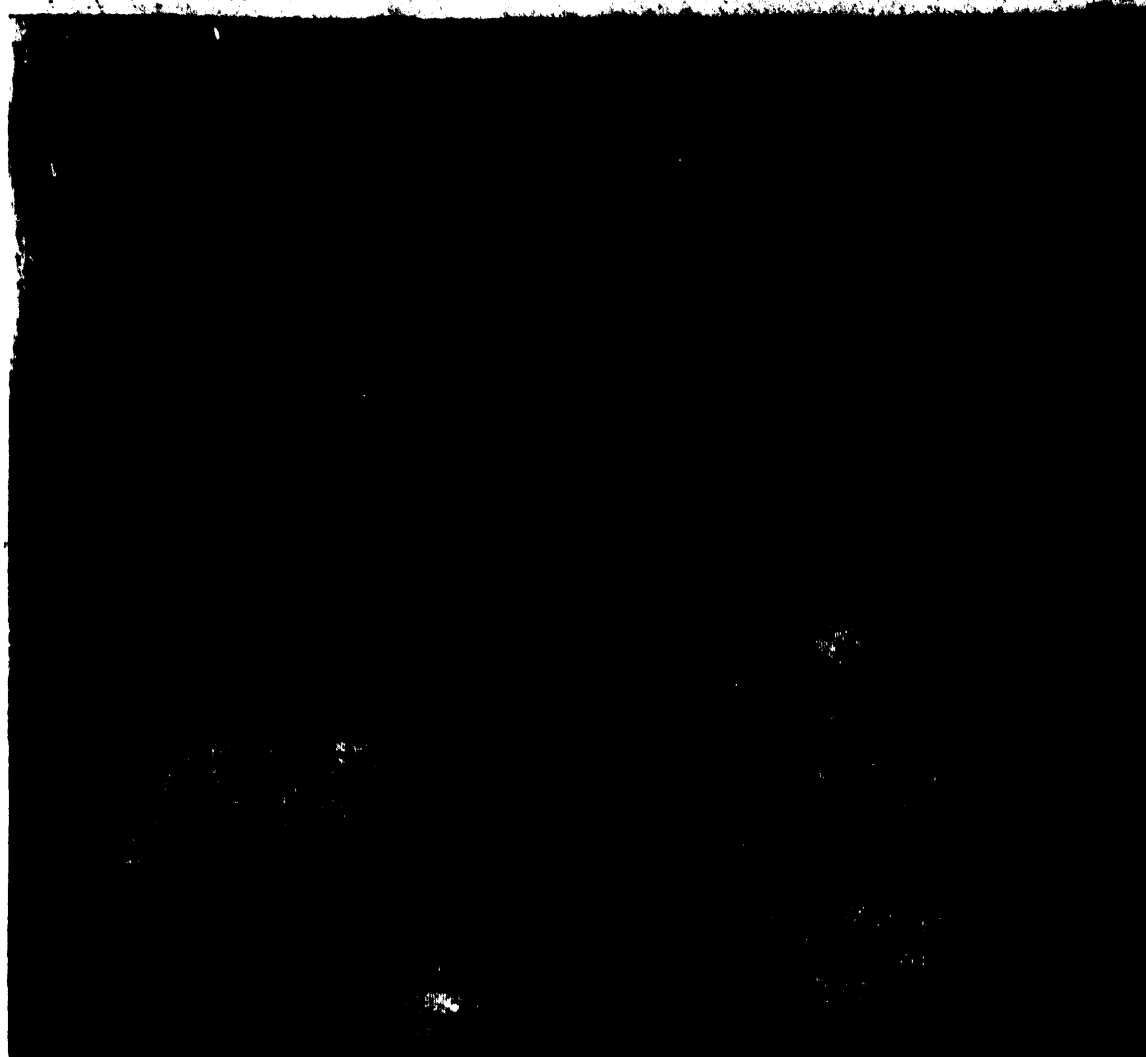

The rehearsal dinner was hosted by the bridegroom's parents on Friday evening at the Chicken Shack.

After a wedding trip to an undisclosed destination, the couple will reside at 1516 N. 23rd St.

The bride is a 1968 graduate of Holy Name High School and she attended Northern Michigan University, Marquette, and Bryant and Stratton College in Milwaukee. Mr. St. Cyr is a 1966 graduate of Gladstone High School and he recently returned from 17 months of duty with the U.S. Armed Forces in Vietnam.

Travelers Plagued:

'White Christmas' Cuts Holiday For Plow Crews

The extra "White Christmas" which fell in the Escanaba area Wednesday, Thursday and today may have been welcomed by recipients of snowmobiles and sleds from Santa Claus, but it created severe problems for city and county employees and for travelers.

Streets and highways in the area, despite the efforts of plow crews, remained snow covered and slippery today and air transportation schedules continued to be disrupted.

City and State Police reported, however, that there were no serious personal injury traffic accidents, although a number of motorists can off roads and several "fender benders" were reported.

Plows remained on the job this morning as snow continued to fall until mid-morning.

"Not Much Christmas

"They didn't have much of a Christmas," said Bob Karas, assistant engineer for the Delta County Road Commission of his employees.

Kenneth Tushak, superintendent of public works in Escanaba, echoed Karas' sentiments.

Tushak, who said attempting to keep the airport runways clear for North Central's DC-9 jet is his biggest headache, reported that plow crews by noon today will have been over all streets in the city four times and the airport about six times since being called out at midnight Christmas Eve.

The problem with the airport, he indicated, centers around North Central's jet, which overflew Escanaba last night and again this morning because of snow covered runways and wind conditions.

Conditions Crucial

Pete Zimmer, North Central agent in Escanaba, praised the city for its efforts to clear the runways to handle the jet, but pointed out that the big plane—the largest regularly scheduled aircraft to serve Escanaba with its 99-passenger capacity—must have near ideal conditions in order to land.

He said that even if the runway is relatively free of snow, strong winds blowing across the east-west runway can cause an overflight.

The stronger the winds, the better condition the runway has to be.

The east-west runway is the only runway at the airport long enough to handle the big plane.

Tushak said that he had men clear the runway at 4 a.m. today, but by the time the plane was scheduled to land conditions were prohibitive as snow continued to fall.

A problem he pointed out in sending the runway is that the city's salt-and-truck might be at work salting streets in the city, then would have to change to sand for the airport.

Roads Slippery

Besides North Central, Trans-Michigan Airlines, the commuter airline which links Escanaba with lower Michigan, did not fly Christmas Day and missed its morning flight to day. There was no immediate word on whether or not the airline would make its afternoon southbound flight today.

Away from the airport, trunk highways were reported slippery in spots this morning as county crews continued to work on clearing the snowfall.

Some four to five inches of snow fell beginning Christmas eve and another 3 inches came down in the past 24 hours.

Karas said some men started plowing at 9 p.m. Christmas Eve. Since then, the plowing has been almost continuous.

He praised four employees who were on vacation for coming to work to assist in the snow removal effort.

"If we get a day without any new snow we'll be in pretty good shape," he said.

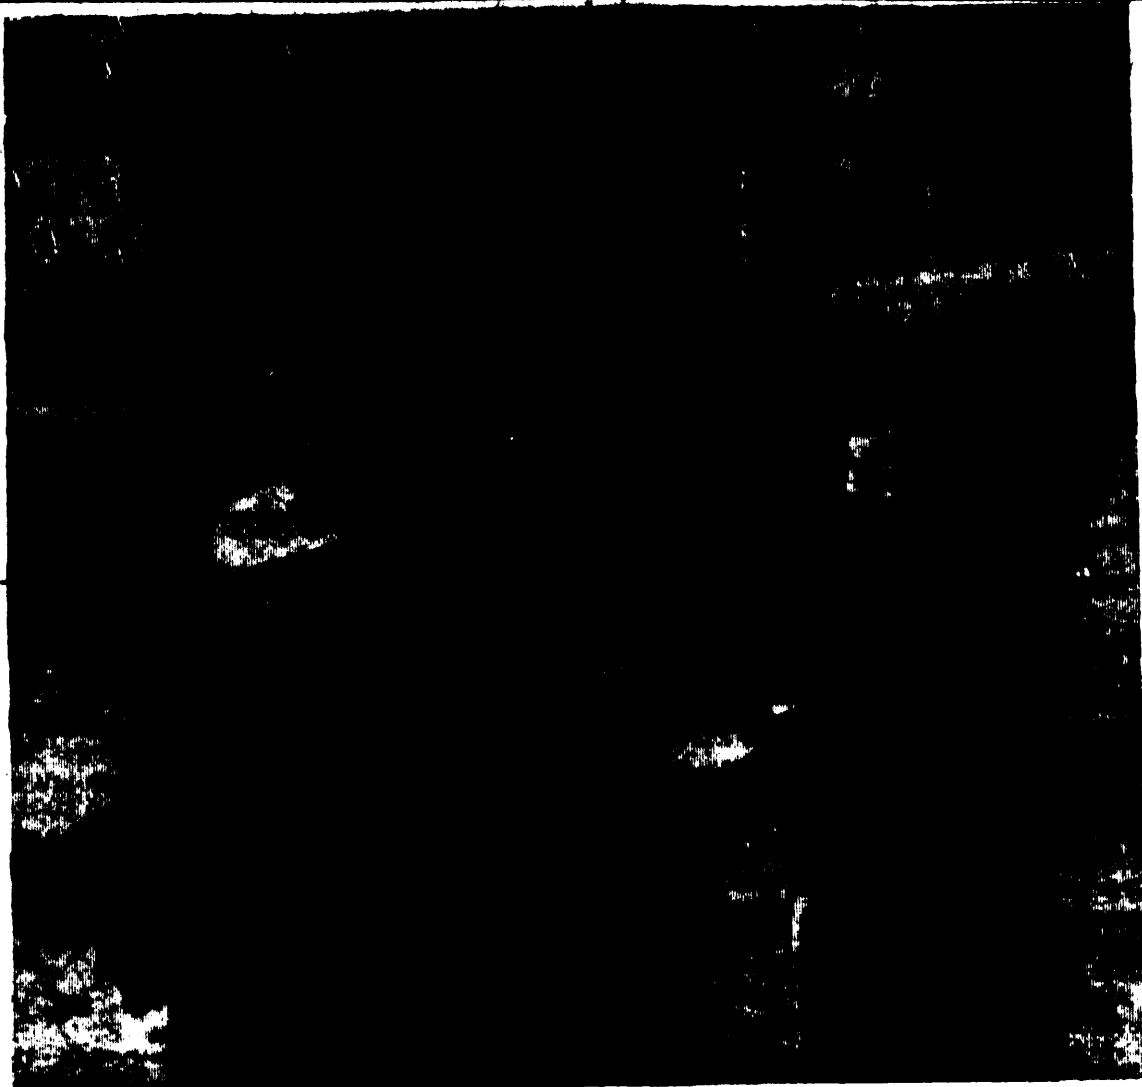

Ordinance Helps

Tushak said the plowing effort in the city has been helped by the city ordinance which limits parking to one side of the streets at all times. He said that with one side of streets free of automobiles, plows have been able to continue plowing during daylight hours, cleaning up a lot of snow.

Downtown, however, snow is being pushed into Ludington St. faster than it can be removed as businessmen and merchants returned to work today after the Christmas holiday.

Officially, the U.S. Weather Bureau reported 36 inch of precipitation in the past 24 hours. That converts to nearly 3 inches of snow.

Light snow or snow flurries remained in the prediction for today, Saturday and Sunday. A total of 11 inches of snow is on the ground, the bureau said.

THE CHRISTMAS SEASON brought a surprise to Delta United Services Chairman John Bissell, right, as he accepts a contribution from Dave Sorg, job superintendent, and Harold Hartley, labor foreman, on behalf of the employees on Escanaba's senior citizens high rise apartment building. The employees' contribution was not solicited, but Bissell said the annual D.U.S. fund-raising drive is nearly complete with follow-up calls being made. A complete report on the campaign is expected early in January, he reported. (Daily Press Photo)

Salvation Army Serves Destitute

By The Associated Press

Americans celebrated Christmas Thursday with traditional trees and turkeys with trimmings, in churches with carols and candlelight services and in family gatherings across the land.

In Washington President Nixon and his family received a brief White House visit by former First Lady Mamie Eisenhower before they began their dinner Thursday. Mrs. Eisenhower dined with her sister, Mrs. G. Gordon Moore.

In New York, the Salvation Army served 1,000 turkey dinners to destitute men and women. Later, 200 derelicts from the Bowery—an old skid row inhabited by an estimated 6,000 alcoholics—attended a Salvation Army Christmas party featuring performances by children.

The Bowery men sat along the walls while children of the Salvation Army staff sang, played and recited poems.

"These are the loneliest guys in the world," said Capt. Don Edeen of the Salvation Army. "They like to have kids around. So we brought them children for Christmas."

In Los Angeles, about 300 persons, mostly Mexicans and Mexican-Americans who are supporting a strike and boycott of California grapes, went to St. Basil's Roman Catholic church to seek the support of James Francis Cardinal McIntyre, who was celebrating midnight Mass.

Five persons were arrested after the demonstrators pounded on the church door. Police said four were charged with conspiring to start a riot and a fifth was charged with assaulting a policeman. Several persons reported minor injuries.

In Jackson, Miss., Roman Catholic Bishop Joseph B. Brunini asked church leaders to join in a fight against racial hatred coming in the wake of recent federal school desegregation orders.

Speaking during his midnight Mass sermon on Christmas Eve, Brunini said, "I think the time is quite ripe for such a united voice that it will be heard throughout Mississippi."

At Tucker Prison Farm, Ark., sixteen children of two families were given a Christmas Day party by the inmates.

Of the 307 inmates, 250 voted to contribute their $1 Christmas gifts, provided by the state, to buy presents for the children who were reported to come from families in "dire need."

In Honolulu, Mrs. James F. Arrapriest said she learned her husband, a Navy engineer, 1st class, had been "bumped" from a scheduled flight from Cam Ranh Bay, Vietnam. She said she had spent all her money so she and her two daughters could travel to Honolulu for a Christmas reunion.

Mrs. Arrapriest said she would not return to her home in Cathedral City, Calif., until her husband received his rest and recreation leave in Honolulu.

Navy officials said they would expedite Arrapriest's visit.

Meanwhile, Willie "The Actor" Sutton celebrated Christmas in seclusion in New York. The infamous bank robber and escape artist was released from prison Wednesday after serving 17 years.

Briefly Told

Impellant Lodge No. 160 IOOF, will put on degree work at 1 p.m. Saturday, Dec. 27. Degree teams are expected to attend.

Two drivers escaped injury in the collision of a car and a pickup truck on U.S. 2-41 at Pine Ridge at 12:15 p.m. Tuesday, it is reported by the sheriff's department. The car was driven by Mrs. Rose M. Blahnik, Bark River Rte. 2. She received a summons for following too closely and failing to exercise due care and caution.

The truck was driven by Dave Moras, Escanaba Rte. 2. He received a summons for not having an operator's license, registration, or proof of insurance.

Margaret A. Niles, 21, of the Bay View Location, is at liberty on $1,000 bond for her appearance in District Court to answer to a bad check charge. She was arraigned in District Court on Dec. 24 and the court is to name an attorney to represent her. The arrest was made by city police on a felony warrant authorized by Prosecutor John Beauchamp, following the alleged uttering and publishing of three or more bad checks within 10 days. Officers said additional worthless checks were received by merchants in the area.

Kenneth L. Parent Sr., who is wanted in Delta County for passing bad checks totaling $436 in Escanaba and Gladstone, has been arrested for forgery in Wisconsin and is held in the Manitowish County jail. Delta County Prosecutor John Beauchamp is consulting with Manitowish authorities on charges to be brought against Parent in Delta County when he is released there.

School Damage $1,000:

Officers Charge 4 Young People With Burglaries

Two young men and two juvenile girls have been charged with breaking and entering in connection with an investigation of burglaries that included entering public school buildings where there was damage in excess of $1,000.

Police Detective John Robitaille of the Escanaba Police Department today said the two youths are at liberty on $500 bond each and that the girls have been petitioned to appear in Delta County Juvenile Court.

Arrested by city police and arraigned in District Court were Michael J. Casey, 19, of Escanaba Rte. 1, and Thomas J. Woolford, 17, of 210 N. 13th St., Escanaba.

The court is to appoint an attorney to represent the defendants and they are to appear in District Court for hearing at a later date.

Casey is charged specifically with the breaking and entering of the Webster School building in Escanaba. He entered the building on Oct. 1 and again Dec. 12, officers said.

Woolford is charged with the breaking and entering of Eddie's Bar at 823 1st Ave. S. on Nov. 28.

The girls, a 15-year-old of Escanaba and a 14-year-old of Escanaba Rte. 1, will have their hearings in Juvenile Court. The 15-year-old has also been involved in auto thefts. The 14-year-old was released to her parents.

Officers reported that the arrests and investigation solved a number of recent breakings and enterings, including the Webster School, Senior High School, Junior High School and the cafeteria, Pine Ridge School, Eddie's Bar (twice in one night) and the theft of an auto battery.

All four of the young people were involved in some of the school burglaries, and Casey and two of the juveniles in some of the school enterings; and all were said by officials to have participated in some of the malicious destruction at the schools within the past couple of months.

Car Rolls Over, Driver Suffers Minor Injuries

One person was slightly injured and a power pole was broken in two of several traffic accidents investigated by State Police Wednesday and Thursday.

Officers said Mike Brkopac, Rte. 1, Gladstone, was treated at St. Francis Hospital for injuries sustained when his car ran off County Rd. 428 about a half mile north of U.S. 2 and 41 at 3:30 p.m. Wednesday.

Brkopac told troopers that he lost control of his car because of the bumpy condition of the road. The car left the road, hit a guard post and rolled over. Brkopac was ticketed for violation of the basic speed law, too fast for conditions.

Thomas Groos, Rte. 1, Gladstone, also received a citation for violation of the basic speed law after his car left County Rd. 428 and broke off a power pole. Troopers said Groos failed to negotiate a curve on the snow-covered road near County Rd. 418 about 2:20 p.m. Thursday. Groos was not injured, officers said.

A total of seven minor accidents were reported to State Police in the past two days.

TV Musical Program Curbs Yule Let-Down

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
NEW YORK (AP) — One of the things television does superbly is present music in a simple format.
A fine example of this was the Christmas afternoon hour of Tchaikovsky's music by two fine soloists accompanied by an excellent orchestra.
The CBS broadcast, called "S. Huruk Presents—Part III" had Mstislav Rostropovich, cellist, and Emil Gilels, pianist, in concert. Each of the Russian artists was introduced briefly by im-

No Comet Now, Expert Reports

EAST LANSING — Recent reports of a comet being visible on Christmas Day this year were not true, contends Robert Victor, staff astronomer at Michigan State University's Abrams Planetarium.
"There have been several newspaper stories lately indicating that a comet from Jupiter would be clearly visible Christmas Day," he said, "and is supposedly similar to the phenomenon that attracted the attention of the Magi."
"From our calculations and the information we have received, however, the comet will not be visible to the naked eye until the latter part of January," he added. "In fact, it will not even clear the horizon during the Christmas holidays."
Victor said that people in the Michigan area will best be able to view the comet as a "fuzzy streak in the sky" about an hour and a half after sunset high above the south-southwest horizon beginning Jan. 24.
"We don't believe, either, that the Star of Bethlehem was a comet," Victor noted. "But rather a conjunction of the planets Jupiter and Saturn."
The current program at the planetarium, "Star of Wonder," deals with the scientific explanation of the Christmas Star and goes into detail about the one that seems to be the best answer.

Consumer No. 1 Concern, Business Officials Told

EAST LANSING (AP) — Business in the 1970s will have to be concerned not only with profit but also with the welfare of consumers, says a Michigan State University professor.
Dr. William Lazer says that because of the complexities of marketing it is hard for the consumer to make adequate judgments about products. He adds "there is no second chance if the first choice was no good. The consumer doesn't have the funds to try a second time."
Lazer says there is increasing hostility toward marketing, illustrated by controversies over safety and the more than 100 consumer protection-type bills now in Congress.
"If industry won't listen to the consumer," he says, "then the government will step in with protection. Business must listen to the consumer and provide products that are durable, warrantable, and contain adequate information and package sizes that aid comparison."

Perhaps 10 per cent of the world is left-handed. No one knows why. Some scientists believe the tendency is inherited; others feel environmental plays a role.

Troubles Pile Up For Oil Industry

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Oil men had a busy 1960, but for most of them, the year will be remembered as one long parade of troubles.
Most of the headaches will carry over into 1961.
The February oil spill in the Santa Barbara Channel off the California coast seems to have served as a catalyst for a chain of events that placed the industry under its severest attacks in history.
Probes Underway
Investigations of Santa Barbara led to new legislation, new regulations, and a temporary freeze for offshore lease sales.
Oil's 27 1/2 per cent depletion allowance became a symbol for tax loopholes and for tax reform.
Oil import controls were blamed for maintaining higher than necessary domestic prices for petroleum products.
There was little improvement in domestic exploration and drilling operations, and both government and industry sound warnings of a developing natural gas supply shortage.
Some Records Set
Domestic production and refining operations, meanwhile, clipped along at record paces but, otherwise, Alaska's Arctic slope region provided the U.S.

industry with most of the high spots of the year.
Testimony on two oil discoveries made in Alaska's Prudhoe Bay field in 1959 gave an indication in late 1960 that early estimates of 20 billion barrels in potential crude oil reserves may be very conservative.
The 25th anniversary, on an Al-

Woman Donates Mittens To Needy

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — The "Mittens Lady" of Baltimore donated 200 pairs of knitted mittens to needy youngsters this Christmas, continuing a personal project begun in 1958.
The knitting is a year-around avocation for 55-year-old Gladys J. Dyke, who says she can make one pair a day at a cost of 40 to 45 cents.
A possible veto by President Nixon appeared to be the only potential threat to plans by Congress to slash the 43-year-old 27 1/2 per cent tax allowance. The house tax-reform bill provides a cut to 20 per cent. Nixon has indicated some displeasure with other phases of a Senate bill.

Book Auction

HOUSTON (AP) — Neil A. Armstrong, Edwin E. Aldrin Jr., and Michael Collins, the Apollo 11 astronauts, autographed a copy of "Footprints on the Moon" and it brought $657.97 at an auction to raise money for a Houston Chronicle Christmas toy and candy fund for children.

29 Attend Dinner With Kansas Who Wanted Company

WINFIELD, Kan. (AP) — Twenty-nine persons ate Christmas dinner Thursday with Louis R. Frather, 53. He had invited anyone who wanted to come.
Thirty-six years ago Frather spent Christmas Day alone at a service station he operated three miles west of Belle Plaine, Kan.
"It brought tears to my eyes to spend Christmas alone," Frather said Thursday. "That's why I'm rejoicing tonight."
He gave his first blanket invitation to Christmas dinner last year when 27 persons showed up.
Frather, who still does carpentry on house repair jobs, was assisted by eight neighbors and members of the Seventh Day Adventist Church. They volunteered to fix the food for this year's dinner.

Pistons Upended In Final Second On Shot By Reed

By The Associated Press

Only one second remained in the National Basketball Association game Christmas day when Detroit center Walt Bellamy's outmaneuvered New York's Willis Reed to score and put the Pistons ahead 111-110.

But — incredibly, fantastically — the Pistons still blew the game, losing to the Knicks 113-111.

It was Reed who did it to the Detroiters.

Just after Bellamy's basket, the Knicks' Walt Frazier looped a high, arching pass from the sidelines over Bellamy's head and Reed leaped under the basket and batted the ball in. The final buzzer sounded as the ball dropped through the net.

In other NBA action Thursday, Baltimore held off Philadelphia 121-113. San Francisco stopped Cincinnati 124-120 in overtime and Boston bowed to Phoenix 127-118.

Bellamy had earlier missed two free throws that could have clinched the game. Jimmy Walker was top scorer for the Pistons with 32 points. Detroit center Bellamy scored 20 of his 34 points in the second half.

Reed was the game leader with 23 points.

The fourth period saw the score tied five times and never more than four points separated the teams, during the final period.

Chattering about the one-second game saver, Frazier explained, "We call that the Bo-ton play because Russell and the Celtics used to work it. I try to get the ball as close to the basket as possible without hitting the rim.

"We practice it all the time, but it never worked before," he said. Reed picked the basketball from the air beside the net and flipped it in for the win.

In the American Basketball Association Washington trounced Pittsburgh 121-112 and Los Angeles beat Kentucky 105-101.

Phoenix' triumph over Boston was the first over the Celtics in the team's two-year history. Center Jim Fox, with Bill Russell to contend with, scored 31 points, followed by Paul Silas with 25 and Geoff Goodrich with 24. Don Nelson paced Boston with 21.

Baltimore earned six free throws in the final minute to stave off Philadelphia despite a 41-point performance by the 76ers' Billy Cunningham.

Cunningham, who also grabbed 13 rebounds, scored 26 points in the second half and pulled the 76ers to 115-113 with less than a minute to go. But after missing a shot in an attempt to tie the score, he fouled out with 41 seconds left and two free throws each by Gus Johnson, Jack Martin and Kevin Loughery accounted for the final spread. Martin led the Bullets with 31 points.

San Francisco, trailing by 12 with four minutes left, tied Cincinnati at 110-all on Ron Williams' steal and layup with 25 seconds left in regulation time. Williams and Jeff Mullins then scored 10 of the Warriors' 14 overtime points.

Mullins scored 24 points and Williams 25 but Cincy's Oscar Robertson took game honors with 38.

Caps Triumph In ABA Play

By The Associated Press

Rick Barry returned to action Thursday night.

The high-scoring star of the Washington Caps, sidelined for two months with a knee injury, suited up but stayed on the bench as his teammates romped to a 121-112 American Basketball Association victory over Pittsburgh.

In the only other game, Mack Calvin hit four free throws in the final two minutes to give Los Angeles a 105-101 triumph over Kentucky.

While Barry looked on, Warren Armstrong paced the Caps to victory with 23 points, Gary Braddis added 20 and Larry Brown set a team record with 17 assists. Mike Lewis led Pittsburgh with 18 points.

LA's Calvin hit his four free throws after Kentucky's Merv Johnson tied the score at 100 with a three-point basket. Wayne Highower and Warren Davis paced the winners with 23 and 21 points respectively while Gene Moore had 22 for Kentucky.

Final Preparations Made For Viking-Ram Showdown

MINNEAPOLIS-ST. PAUL

(AP) — A 30-man work force put the final touches on Operation Clean-Up at snow-blotched Metropolitan Stadium today as the final few seats went on sale for Saturday's National Football League struggle for survival between the Los Angeles Rams and Minnesota Vikings.

The crew worked around the clock clearing the last traces of snow from the 47,800-seat park — setting for Saturday's Western Conference championship game.

Originally, plans called for a 300-man crew in anticipation that the snow removal problem would be huge. But snow which began falling Wednesday ended Thursday morning, enabling the smaller crew to handle the job by themselves.

At the same time, the last hardy souls trekked to the Viking ticket offices for the final 1,000 tickets remaining and the less hardy souls made final last-minute preparations for trips to motels outside the 75-mile television blackout radius.

Meanwhile, both teams continued workouts at separate locations in the Twin Cities today, fitting into place the last pieces of the game plans they will throw at each other in this battle for the National Football League's Western Conference title.

And, with just 24 hours remaining before the game that will send the winner into the NFL championship game Jan. 4, against the survivor of Sunday's Cleveland-Dallas contest, concern about the weather seemed to have been somewhat subordinated to talk about the teams — and their similar personalities.

"I think we're not only equal," said Vikings Coach Bud Grant, "but similar in our style of play and our strengths."

The similarities in personality ranged from the mental toughness of the two teams, best exemplified by the leadership qualities in quarterbacks Roman Gabriel of the Rams and Joe Kapp of the Vikings, to the fierceness of the opposing front four.

"We have a lot of solid citizens on this club," said Rams' Coach George Allen. "Every winning team has to have leadership from within. We have so many leaders if I'd mention four or five I'd leave someone out, so I won't mention any names."

"This club isn't based on individuals," said Grant. "We put the team ahead of the individual. There's no question that Joe does. When he was voted a Most Valuable Player award he refused to accept it on the basis there is no most valuable."

Kapp, of course, has been the picture of leadership for the Vikings this season, a passer more renowned for his ability to take a physical beating and come back for more than to throw a perfect spiral.

In the final league statistics, he was rated the No. 10 passer in the league, but there is little doubt he was as big a force in the club's 12-2 record in the Central Division as the defensive unit which set a NFL record for least points allowed, 133, and least yardage, 2,720.

Gabriel, on the other hand, was rated the No. 4 passer statistically but was no less a leader than Kapp in bringing the Rams through to the Coastal Division title with an 11-3 record, while running off "The Associated Press" MVP award.

Not one receiver — neither Jack Snow nor Wendell Tucker of the Rams nor Gene Washington nor John Henderson of the Vikings — cracked the top 10.

And the leading rushers, Dave Osborn for Minnesota and Larry Smith for Los Angeles, were well down the list in 10th and 12th, respectively.

But while neither the rushers nor the receivers were outstanding statistically, both Front Fours were so much so that the statistics were unable to decide the arguments over which defensive line is better.

In the most dramatic element of defense, getting to the quarterback, there was little separating them. Los Angeles' front line of Deacon Jones, Merlin Olsen, Coy Bacon and Diron Talbert sacked the passer 50 times. The Minnesota front line of Jim Marshall, Alan Page, Gary Larsen and Carl Eller dropped passers 49 times.

If one team has an edge then it is in a different area. And the two factors that might turn the game are the weather and momentum — both on the side of the Vikings.

A cold day and/or a frozen field undoubtedly would aid the Vikings, who have lived with and played under those conditions far more often than the Rams, a fact acknowledged freely by both Allen and Grant.

As for momentum, the Vikings lost their final game to Atlanta 10-3 but the Rams dropped a 13-7 loss to Baltimore for their third loss in succession, a fact that does indeed worry a proven performer such as the veteran Olsen.

"We would very much have liked to have winning momentum going into a game like this," said Olsen. "You lose two or three, instead of stepping on the field with all the confidence in the world you're stepping on the field wondering what's going to go wrong this time."

It could be the weather. And the way Olsen says the Rams are something that could be a stiff psychological blow.

North Bombs South In Shrine Contest

MIAMI (AP) — Eighty pro football scouts watched Christmas night's North-South all-star game and probably not one showed up to see Rutgers' Bruce Van Ness.

Van Ness showed 'em. "I came down here hoping I might do well enough to get a shot with the pros," said the 210-pound running back. "But I never thought I would get this lucky. Several scouts have showed an interest in me in the past few minutes."

Van Ness romped for 74 yards in 14 carries as the North workhorse in a 31-10 victory. He was named the Yanks' most valuable player.

"He'll have a lot of people after him now," said Joe Thomas, who hunts talent for the Miami Dolphins.

"I've been saying all week that Van Ness is a competitor," said North Coach Jack McIlkenny of Purdue. "Now somebody will pay attention."

It was Nebraska's Al Larson who turned into a defensive Scrooge to kill the South's last hope of rising again. With the Yanks ahead 14-10 and Bill Capleman of Florida State marching the Rebs, the Cornhusker swiped a South pass and raced 88 yards to put the game on ice.

Larson had helped Nebraska thrash Georgia 45-8 just five days earlier in the Sun Bowl.

The game was billed as a battle of quarterbacks. Although all four entries did well, their talented arms didn't produce the expected fireworks.

It started off wild enough though. Capleman arched a 78-yard bomb to Louisiana Tech's Tommy Spinks on the game's first play. It came 47 seconds after the opening kickoff — and the Rebels didn't score another touchdown.

Capleman hit 10 of 19 passes for 190 yards, but he threw the costly Larson interception. Terry Bradshaw showed ability that may send him to some pro team in the January draft's first round, but the Louisiana Tech ace couldn't score points. He was 9 of 15 for 90 yards.

Purdue's Mike Phipps, biggest name of the game's participants, scored on a one-yard plunge and connected eight times in 15 throws for 99 yards. The Bollemaier hero received plenty of help from Air Force's Gary Baxter, who hit 6 of 11 throws for 55 yards and directed a 45-yard touchdown march. Baxter scored on a three-yard sprint to the right.

On the South side, Arkansas State middle guard Clovis Swinney was the MVP. It made it

2-of-2 for the school. Linebacker Bill Bergery was last year's most valuable player here and the two men are the only ones to represent Arkansas State in the North-South game's 22-year history.

Bergery went on to the Cincinnati Bengals and was the American Football League rookie of the year in 1969.

"I'd like to follow Bergery's example," said Swinney. "I'd like to be drafted in an early round and get a good contract. I come from a poor family and I'd like to use the money to help my mother."

The South's lead in the series was cut to 11-10-1.

Doughty To Miss Rose Bowl Clash

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Glenn Doughty leaned on his crutches, gazing at the big Christmas tree in the lobby of Michigan's hotel headquarters in Pasadena.

"You get so close and all of a sudden it's gone," he moaned, as he waited to travel with Dr. Gerald O'Connor, the team physician, to the UCLA medical center.

"You dream about this all your life," he said, visibly disappointed that he will miss the Rose Bowl game New Year's Day against Southern Cal.

Doughty, the Wolverine's second leading ground gainer with 762 yards and a 4.9-yard average per carry, was injured in practice Wednesday. O'Connor said the injury is a torn ligament in his right knee and the sophomore tailback was scheduled to undergo surgery today.

"It was just one of those things," Doughty said. "I got hit from behind, twisted my leg and that was it."

"It's a shame that a young sophomore like Doughty misses a chance to play in the Rose Bowl," said U-M Coach Bo Schembechler after the injury.

It will be even more of a shame if anything happens to tailback Billy Taylor, who started in place of Doughty midway through the season when Doughty suffered an ankle injury. Taylor went on to gain 805 yards and he will start Jan. 1 against USC with third stringer Lance Schaeffer backing him up.

Although Doughty is disappointed with the bad Christmas news, he is not bitter. "I did get to fly out here and I have met a lot of nice people," said the 6-foot-2, 196-pounder. "The weather is nice and the trip to Disneyland was a great experience."

The ankle injury he suffered that gave him his job to Taylor is gone. "As a matter of fact, it stopped bothering me just since I came out here," he said.

Two days after Michigan arrived here last Thursday, Schembechler said Doughty was running better in practice than Taylor and would start if the Rose Bowl was the next day.

Doughty said his knee would probably not be completely healed in time for next spring practice.

"But I'm not through," he said with determination. "I'm only a sophomore and there is still another chance to come here for a Rose Bowl."

Single workouts were scheduled by Schembechler and USC Coach John McKay for today.

Blue-Gray Tilt Slated Saturday

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — Captains have been chosen to represent the opposing Rebel and Yankee forces when they collide Saturday in the 32nd annual Blue-Gray football game.

Co-captains for the North will be Sankar Charles Collins of Kansas State and defensive tackle Bob Godes of UCLA, while Mississippi State quarterback Tommy Pharr and defensive end Mike Widger of Virginia Tech will lead the South squad.

Gray Head Coach Charles Stene of Mississippi State and Blue mentor Ben Martin of Air Force announced the selections Thursday following Christmas workouts here in damp, drizzling weather.

Shira said the Southerners reviewed assignments for about 70 minutes to prepare for an emergency that might require offensive or defensive players to switch positions Saturday.

Assistant Coach Don Fournet of Missouri said the Yankee players ducked under the rain and sharpened their plays for about 45 minutes.

Shira was expected to announce a starting lineup for the Rebels following today's final practice session, but Fournet said the Blue squad did not plan to name an official starting group.

"All 44 of our players are starters," he said.

Royals, Warriors Announce Trade

CINCINNATI (AP) — The Cincinnati Royals Thursday traded guard Adrian "Odie" Smith to the San Francisco Warriors of the National Basketball Association for a second round draft choice next year.

Smith has played eight years in the NBA, all with Cincinnati. He was a member of the University of Kentucky's "Fiddlin' Five" basketball team which won the NCAA tournament in 1958.

The six-foot-one guard excels as a foul shooter hitting .807 from the line in the 1967-68 campaign with the Royals.

Smith is the second Royal to be traded to San Francisco this year. Center Jerry Lucas went to the Warriors earlier this year but is out of action with a broken hand.

Package Of Tournaments Hits Cage Scene Tonight

By The Associated Press

Southern California and Washington gets right into the swing of things and Pistol-packing Louisiana State takes a dip in the Pacific as the holiday season peaks open a package of college basketball tournaments to-night.

Winner of the Southern California Washington match in the opening round is expected to be in the running for the championship of the Far West Tournament at Portland, Ore. And LSU puts national scoring leader Elton Fite Maravich on display in the Rainbow Classic at Honolulu, Hawaii.

Despite the favorite's role given to 10th-ranked Washington and 12th-ranked Southern Cal, Coach Steve Bittel of last year's champion Oregon team says: "We haven't been defeated yet."

The tourney may produce a lively challenge for the Pacific-6 crown, held by second-ranked UCLA. Illinois and Washington State could give the Far West tourney's two top teams some trouble.

Maravich, who has been scoring more than 40 points a game this year, is third on the NCAA career scoring list and needs 311 points to overtake the No. 1 man, Oscar Robertson.

But Hawaii fans will have to wait until Saturday to see LSU's red-hot gun in action. Louisiana State will meet Submarine Forces Pacific (SUBPAC) in the second game of the night.

St. John's of New York and Iowa open the classic tonight, with Yale playing the University of Hawaii in the nightcap.

Among the other ranked teams in tournament play to-night will be sixth-ranked Tennessee in the All-College Tournament Oklahoma City; seventh-ranked New Mexico State in the Southwestern Invitational at Las Cruces, N.M.; Kansas in the Big Eight Tourney at Kansas City.

Getting into action Saturday night will be UCLA in the Bruin Classic in Los Angeles; 19th-ranked St. Bonaventure in the Holiday Festival in New York; and 20th-ranked Villanova in the Quaker City Classic at Philadelphia.

Kentucky, the nation's top-ranked team, plays No. 11 Notre Dame in a non-tournament contest at Louisville Saturday night.

Tennessee is favored to win the All-College tourney. The Vols' 4-0 mark this season included a 85-64 victory over third-ranked South Carolina.

Niagara, with watch-charm guard Cal Murphy scoring over 30 points a game, has compiled a 7-0 mark this season and could be a dark horse in the tourney.

Oklahoma City, with a 101-64 triumph last week over then nationally-ranked Santa Clara, will be the biggest club in the tournament.

The Chiefs' starting lineup features four 6-6 players and one 6-foot-8.

Oklahoma State, winner of nine straight, plays Kansas State tonight in the opening of the Big Eight tournament. High-flying Kansas takes on improved Oklahoma in the second game.

"Everyone is recovered now and we are at full strength," Dickey said.

This frightened Graves, who said Tennessee might be the best team of recent years in the South when all its players are healthy.

"But our team rose to the occasion more than any I ever coached," said the Florida coach.

The Gators' 8-1-1 record was a complete reversal of predictions for a finish toward the bottom of the Southeastern Conference and certainly no bowl game.

Holiday Season Rough On Kings

By The Associated Press

It wasn't exactly a ho, ho, ho holiday for the Los Angeles Kings.

Removed 3,000 miles from home by the National Hockey League schedule, the Kings absorbed a 7-1 shellacking from Boston on Christmas night. That, believe it or not, was an improvement over the night before, Christmas Eve, when the Kings were beaten 8-1 at Toronto.

In other NHL games Thursday night, Philadelphia trimmed Oakland 3-1 and Minnesota tied Chicago 4-4.

Phil Esposito led the Boston rout with two goals and two assists while Ken Hodge also scored twice and Bobby Orr, the NHL's leading scorer, picked up a goal and an assist, increasing his point total to 50.

Orr has 40 assists in 33 games and, barring injury, is a cinch to shatter both the assists and scoring records for defensemen. Both records were set last year with Orr accumulating 64 points and Chicago's Pat Stapleton picking up 50 assists.

The Kings and Bruins were scoreless for one period before unassisted goals by Esposito and Derek Sanderson in the first 12 minutes of the second period triggered a six-goal Boston explosion.

In addition to his goal and assist, Orr picked up four stitches in a second period fight with Bill Flett. Orr and Flett both got two minute minor penalties at 5:42 of the period and were out of the penalty box less than 15 seconds when they tangled again, incurring majors at 7:55.

The victory stretched Boston's unbeaten string against the NHL's West Division to 16 games.

Philadelphia scored all of its goals in the first period to knock off Oakland and take over third place in the West.

The Flyers struck quickly, bunching all of their goals in eight minutes, 54 seconds, with Jim Johnson, Dick Cherry and Simon Nolet hitting.

Doug Fowell, making only his fifth appearance in goal for Philadelphia, gained his first victory, kicking out 31 shots. Gerry Ehman's second period goal spoiled his shutout.

Minnesota came back from a two-goal deficit to gain the tie with Chicago.

Tommy Williams and Bill Goldsworthy scored third period goals that drew Minnesota to even with Chicago. Charley Burns and J. P. Parise had the other North Star goals while Stan Mikita scored two goals and Bobby Hull and Gilles Marotie one apiece for Chicago.

The tie stretched Minnesota's winless streak to seven games but kept the North Stars unbeaten against Chicago. Minnesota won the first two meetings between the two teams.

The fourth highest story of the year in Michigan was the succession of William to the governorship, filling the vacancy created when George Romney joined President Nixon's cabinet as secretary of housing and urban development.

The first highest story of the year in Michigan was the election of Wayne County Sheriff Roman Gribbs over the strong opposition of Negro candidate Richard Austin, the Wayne County auditor.

Seventh highest story of the year in the opinion of AP editors and broadcasters was the firing of Roman Knausen as president of Ford Motor Company about 18 months after he was hired away from General Motors by Henry Ford II.

No. 8 on the list was the appointment of Clifton Wharton, a Negro, as president of Michigan State University to succeed John Hannah, who became head of the U.S. Agency for International Development.

Ninth major story in Michigan was the first-degree murder trial and verdict of innocent for Detroit policeman Ronald August in the slaying of one of three Negro youths found dead in the Algiers Motel during the 1967 race riots.

In 10th place was the death in a private plane crash of Dr. Leroy Augustenstam, a member of the State Board of Education and chairman of Michigan State University's Department of Biophysics.

Public Safety firemen were called to the Joseph Wood residence, 810 Arbutus Ave., at 10:20 Wednesday morning when sparks from a cable used to thaw water pipes burned out a service line wire on the eaves of the house.

William Demers of Ypsilanti was ticketed for violation of the basic speed law — too fast for conditions — after his car went out of control and rolled over on County Rd. 443 at 2 a.m. Dec. 24. Troopers said Demers was not injured in the mishap.

Leonard Gould, Rte. 1, reported to state police that a rim and tire from his 1960 station wagon was stolen sometime during the Dec. 22 early morning hours. Gould said his car became stuck on an unnamed County Rd. in Hialeah Township and he left it for a period of time. The theft occurred before he returned.

Michigan State Police issued traffic citations to Anthony Fritz, Susquehanna, Pa.; Francis Kowalski, Dearborn; David Glass, Thompson, Marquette; all for speeding; Adeline Goudreau, Gulliver, no insurance proof; Gordon Cotton, Detroit, speeding and no operator's license; Carl Leonard, Brooklyn, N.Y., improper overtaking on a curve. All tickets were issued Dec. 22.

Judge Sides In With Objector On War Issue

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The judge's decision came in time for Christmas for a Grand Rapids, Mich., man who opposes the Vietnam war.

Leslie C. Bowen, 24, a student at Grand Valley State College near Grand Rapids, was cleared by a federal judge Wednesday on charges of failing to report for induction into military service.

U.S. District Court Judge Stanley A. Weigel said a part of the draft law was unconstitutional in ruling that Bowen had the right as a conscientious objector to oppose the justness of a particular war, but not all wars.

Bowen, a Roman Catholic, had asked his Michigan draft board for conscientious objector classification under church doctrine that there are just and unjust wars.

Both the draft board and Michigan Appeals Board refused the request and told Bowen to report for induction at Oakland June 23, 1968. He appealed.

The judge said Catholic doctrine defines certain standards in which each Catholic must determine whether a war is just. "If he determines the war is unjust, a Catholic must not participate in it," the judge said. "To do so would be to violate his religion."

Noting that the Selective Service system at present generally exempts members of such pacifist sects as Quakers and Jehovah's Witnesses, the judge said members of other religions such as Catholics are not allowed to claim conscientious objector status.

The judge said the policy violates neutrality between religion requirement by the first amendment.

Bowen, who was registered with Local Board 74 at Grand Haven, is a junior at Grand Valley State College.

Bowen said he hoped the ruling would help other people who are against the Vietnam war.

Silver Halves Minted Despite Metal Shortage

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Mint is forging ahead with its production of scarce silver half-dollars despite a Treasury Department desire to make them of a copper-nickel sandwich in order to preserve the nation's dwindling silver supply.

The Denver Mint—the only one producing half-dollars—stamped $18.65 million of the 50-cent pieces during November, Roy S. Cahoon, the Treasury Department Agency's coin management chief, said in an interview.

This is almost 30 per cent of the $100 million ceiling set by law and, Cahoon said, isn't nearly enough to go around.

Although it's not possible to judge how many of the 1.26 billion Kennedy halves minted since 1964 are still in circulation, Cahoon said, "we do know they're not circulating as they should in daily commerce."

The Mint judges a coins' circulation by the number returned to Federal Reserve regional banks by commercial banks in their areas.

Now, Cahoon said, the reserve banks "have no inventory."

One problem causing the limited circulation, Mint officials believe, is the notion that the silver in the coins may one day be worth more than 50 cents, making it profitable to hold them now in the hope of selling them for their silver content later.

But the silver in one half-dollar, at the latest prices of about $1.75 an ounce, is worth something less than 25 cents, meaning the price would have to double before the metal in a half-dollar will be worth more than its face value.

Cahoon said the Mint put on the big production push in November because "we try to get as many out to the banks before the Christmas holidays as we can."

But the half-dollar finds its way into shoppers' pockets only rarely, partially because of the few million—compared, say, to the 480 million pennies struck during November—and partially because of the hoarding.

Romney Settles For Just Plain Freezer Picture

BLOOMFIELD HILLS (AP)—The stores were crowded Wednesday night with those people who wanted to get "that one last touch," or "the toy the boy had his heart set on" (as of Wednesday afternoon).

And there in the crowd at the Oakland Mall in Troy was George Romney, former governor of Michigan and now U.S. secretary of Housing and Urban Development.

Like many last-minute shoppers, Romney had his problems. He forgot his credit card and had to pay cash. Then he learned that delivery could not be made until well after Christmas. He even offered to go to the warehouse and pick it up, but that couldn't be worked out either.

At least the store came up with a picture of the new freezer and gift-wrapped it. The photo was placed under the tree for Romney's oldest daughter, Mrs. Lynn Keenan. At least, the picture showed, Romney's intentions were the best.

Here is Romney's advice to last-minute shoppers: "Take plenty of cash and buy presents you can copy."

City Recipient Of Big Art Collection

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Oriental art objects appraised at nearly $5 million have been turned over to the City of San Francisco.

They are the latest donation from Avery Brundage's $40 million Oriental art collection. Previously the city accepted $80 million worth of the collection.

A committee named by Mayor Joseph Alioto has been working out details for Brundage to turn the balance of the collection over to the city and to insure proper display of the collection at the DeYoung Museum in Golden Gate Park.

The latest additions announced Thursday include 50 items from Brundage's "Chinese Treasures," appraised at $1,125,000, and 50 items, appraised at $1,125,000.

Tax Relief Dates, Reductions Set

WASHINGTON (AP)—Here are dates major tax relief provisions of the tax reform bill—and consequent reductions in taxes withheld from paychecks—take effect:

Jan. 1, 1970—reduction in the income tax surcharge from 10 to 5 per cent. A new low-income allowance of $1,100.

July 1, 1970—end of the surcharge. Increase in the personal exemption for each dependent from $600 to $800.

Jan. 1, 1971—increase in the standard deduction from the present 10 per cent of adjusted gross income up to $1,000, to 12 per cent and $1,500. Low-income allowance changed to $1,000. New reduced rate schedule for single persons. New maximum earned income rate of 60 per cent compared with present 70; but the new rate is subject to some limits.

Jan. 1, 1973—increase in the personal exemption to $750. Low-income allowance changed to $1,000. Standard deduction raised to 14 per cent with $2,000 ceiling. New maximum earned income rate of 60 per cent, still subject to some limits.

Jan. 1, 1973—increase in the standard deduction to $750. Standard deduction raised to 15 per cent with $2,000 ceiling.

Obituary

EDWARD E. ARMSTRONG
Funeral services were held Wednesday morning at 10 a.m. from the Mortuary-DeWitt Funeral Home for Edward E. Armstrong, 64, 118 N. Second St., who died Dec. 22 in the Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital. Father Arnold Grambow, assistant pastor of St. Francis de Sales Church, officiated with Mrs. Roy Lashar as organist. Burial will take place in the spring in the Fairview Cemetery.

District Court

Bernard Conlon of Ypsilanti posted $50 appearance bond Wednesday morning and will appear Dec. 29 before Judge Charles A. Stark for arraignment on a charge of driving with a suspended license. He paid a $15 fine and costs of $15 on a second charge of speeding. Conlon was jailed following his 2:30 a.m. arrest Wednesday by state police on M-77 in Mueller Township.

Hospital

Tuesday admissions to the Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital included Sheriff Lloyd Gray, a transfer patient from St. Luke's Hospital in Marquette, and Jane Schuster.

Discharged were Charles Price, Louise Haley, Debbie Swanson, Vicki Parrish, Mary-Lloyd Parry, Kent Cooper, Bernice Anderson and Joan Potvin and infant.

Hunter Wounded By His Own Dog

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—A hunter was shot and wounded by a dog.

Mrs. Orville Williams was treated at a hospital after a .38-caliber bullet grazed her above the left eye.

Mrs. Williams and her husband were hunting with their dogs. Williams shot a squirrel but it became lodged in his branches of a tree.

The rifles were placed on the ground while the couple tried to knock the squirrel from the tree.

The squirrel fell and landed on top of the rifles. One of the dogs lunged for the squirrel, causing one of the rifles to fire.

Hess Visitors

BERLIN (AP)—West German Hess says he and his mother were required to sign statements that they would discuss neither their pre-Christmas visit to his father Rudolf Hess nor the state of his father's health.

Hess, 32, and his mother, the Hess, paid a visit Wednesday to Hess, 70, once a deputy of Adolf Hitler, now under treatment at a British military hospital for ulcers. Hess is serving a life sentence in Spandau prison as a war criminal.

Vienna New Site For Arms Confab

BERLIN (AP)—The United States and the Soviet Union have agreed to begin full-scale strategic arms limitation talks in Vienna April 16 and continue them in Helsinki later.

The United States had wanted Vienna as the site for the substantive negotiations, while the Soviet Union had been holding out for Helsinki. The compromise choice of both capitals ended a deadlock and enabled the two countries to move ahead with their efforts to stop the arms race in another meeting.

Alcatraz Indians
Enjoy Christmas
SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Their conference with various tribal representatives over, the Indians on Alcatraz Island celebrated Christmas with a turkey feast, gift giving, and religious services.
After a week of fog and rain, the sun brightened the island in San Francisco Bay as some 50 Indian children gathered around a 12-foot Christmas tree.
With their elders, the tykes opened gifts donated by Bay Area civic groups and businessmen, and carved 80 donated turkeys.
Three Roman Catholic priests were ferried to the island Thursday to conduct Christmas services.
Some of the 180 tribal representatives joined the 300 resident Indians in the festivities.
At a news conference following a full day of talks Wednesday, the Indians declared they would not give up the 21-acre island for anything, not even for another parcel of land if it were offered by the General Services Administration, landlord of the former federal prison.
"You can say we are having a good Christmas," said Earl Livern, a Blackfoot and one of those who masterminded the invasion of the island Nov. 20.

Wounded Son, 39

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — "How do you say thanks?" Otto Wick, 70, of Bollingen, West Germany, asked in broken English. Wick and his wife Ursula were flown free of charge from Germany for a Christmas visit to their wounded son, Army Sgt. Otto Wick Jr., 39, at the Army's Letterman Hospital at the San Francisco Presidio.

Thanks to contributions of $60,000 by Northern Californians to "Operation Sleighbells," 110 relatives of 97 men wounded in Vietnam were on hand for a Christmas Day visit.

Operation Sleighbells was sponsored by District 18 of the Veterans of Foreign Wars. More relatives of other wounded men are still arriving for weekend visits under the program, hospital officials said.

Some of the more needy relatives, the hospital said, were given money for hotel rooms, as well as funds for transportation. Some of the Operation Sleighbells visitors paid part of their way here.

Twins Or Nothing

For Hippopotamus

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Peepers, the hippopotamus which produced twins in 1962, duplicated the feat Christmas Day at the St. Louis Zoo.

The twins, 4,000-pound father, Jeppers, was removed from the mother's enclosure so he would not accidentally trample the babies, which weighed in at about 40 pounds each.

The current twins raised Peppers' production record to nine. His have survived.

Slow Yule Trip

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — John S. Norman made it home for Christmas although he had to drive about 600 miles in second gear.

Norman was en route from East Hartford, Conn., where he works as an aircraft mechanic, when his car's transmission stuck in second just south of Washington, D.C.

He stopped in a small Virginia town for mechanical aid but was told parts were unavailable for his 1965 model auto.

Pressure Suit Saves Mother From Death

STANFORD, Calif. (AP) — A test pilot pressure suit has been used to save a young mother from bleeding to death, a medical report says.

Mary Phillips, 25-year-old mother of two, was in critical condition at Stanford University Hospital last September, bleeding uncontrollably following a minor operation.

Doctors had given her 46 pints of whole blood and 64 units of plasma in five weeks while trying without success nine surgical procedures for stopping internal hemorrhaging.

Now, she is living a normal life in her Sunnyvale, Calif., home.

Dr. Robert Mason on Sept. 28 suggested that doctors try a pressure garment, recalling that Dr. W. James Gardner of the Cleveland Clinic in Ohio had employed in early brain surgery research.

Within four hours after a call from the Stanford staff, Dr. Alan Chambers of NASA's Ames Research Center at nearby Mountain View had delivered a modified pressure suit to the hospital.

It was placed almost immediately on Mrs. Phillips and stayed there for 10 hours. Overnight the bleeding stopped.

The pressure suit treatment was described in a report Thursday by Stanford University Hospital and the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

Dr. Ralph Pelligra, chief of the Ames Center's medical services branch, said the suit apparently reduced the pressure difference between the blood within the arteries and the tissues outside. Normal blood coagulation then resumed.

Photos wear the suits, commonly called "G-Suits," to avoid bleeding out during high-speed maneuvers.

Forecaster Victim Of Poor Weather

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP) — Snow, sleet and freezing rain struck North Carolina Christmas day, and one of the victims was the state's main weather forecasting bureau.

The Raleigh-Durham bureau lost power for a time when the weight of freezing rain snapped electric lines.

Albert Bond Dies Thursday

Albert Joseph Bond, 54, of Rapid River (Whitefish Hill) died at 5:10 a. m. Thursday at St. Francis Hospital where he had been a patient for three weeks.

He was born Oct. 25, 1915 in Rapid River and was a self-employed carpenter. He was a veteran of W. W. II serving with the U. S. Navy. Mr. Bond was a member of Walter Cole Post 301, American Legion of Rapid River.

He is survived by his widow, the former Hazel Mick; two sons, Gary and Gregory, both at home and his father, Peter Bond, a resident of Pinecrest Medical Care Facility at Powers.

Friends may call from 4 to 8:30 p. m. today at the Skradski Funeral Home and the body will be removed to the Congregational Church at Rapid River at 1 p. m. Saturday where visitation will be held until 2 p. m. Funeral services will be conducted at 2 p. m. by the Rev. Charles Hazard and burial will be in the Rapid River Cemetery. Military rites will be conducted by Walter Cole Post, 71.

HE FOUND IT — Donald Dahiblick, 13, backs in the bankroll — nearly $1,000 — he found in an abandoned row of garages in Boston's Jamaica Plain section. His parents (father Robert, an unemployed painter) notified police. Now the Dahiblicks have to wait a year for a valid claimant to appear.

Jaycees Schedule Snowmobile Derby In Iron County

The fourth annual Iron County Jaycee Snowmobile Derby, which is United States Snowmobile Association sanctioned, will be held on Saturday and Sunday, Jan. 31 and Feb. 1.

A 20-mile Ottawa National Cross Country Race will be held beginning at 8 a. m. Saturday from Camp Gibbs, Iron County's multi-purpose winter recreation area.

On Sunday, Feb. 1, an oval race competition will be held at the Iron County Fairgrounds beginning at 9 a. m.

It is expected that the purse for the two day event will exceed $5,000. Over 300 entries are expected.

More people get more news from newspapers than all other sources combined.

Briefly Told

State Police issued traffic summons Wednesday and Thursday to Glen Hertz, Rte. 1, Cornell, violation of basic speed law; Frederick Cavill, Rte. 1, Gladstone, violation of basic speed law; Zareide Sakminen, Rte. 1, Gladstone, failure to yield right of way; Gerald Hardwick, Nahma, speeding; Wayne Miljensen, Michigan, speeding; Brian Charles, Rte. 1, Gladstone, disregarding a police officer; Daniel Pades, Box 96, Gladstone, excessive muffler noise; and Ronald Timlet, 131 1st Ave. S., Escanaba, no operator's license.

A car driven by Jens Farris, 26, Detroit, hit a deer on U. S. 2 about five miles east of Escanaba about 12:30 a. m. Wednesday, State Police reported. Farris was not injured, troopers said. The deer was turned over to conservation officers.
